A SCHOOL CLOSED.

NO SESSIONS AT THE BRYAN HILL FOR WANT OF COAL.

The Patrons Displeased With District Director Dozier and Will Ask His Resignation—A Great Hardship on the Scholars on Account of Neglect to Supply Fuel—School Notes.

The pupils of the Bryan Hill School have been enjoying a holiday which is not down on the school calendar. They had a vacation from Friday, Oct. 31, until yesterday morning, because there was no coal in the cellar and the building could not be heated. When the children went to school last Monday morning they were told to go home. The building was cold and desolate. No fire in the furnace, the school could not be heated. The pupils sat there all day, and the janitor said it was useless to expect to get coal until next day. He had tried to get it before, but he could not and he reported the case to Engineer Lee with a hope of getting enough to use next day. There was no excuse for not having the coal there for the coal contract was awarded on the 15th of last June and there has been plenty of time to deliver it, but Engineer Lee failed to compel the contractors to deliver it properly. Tuesday came and the children returned to school, but again they were sent home. The coal had not come and there was no fire.

A GREAT HARDSHIP.

The Bryan Hill School is on John Avenue and Emily street and it is a long way for many of the students to get to school. The suburban homes, and to be compelled to turn and walk directly home again was a hardship that really justified complaint. Mr. Long was notified the second day, and he went after Engineer Lee at once. Mr. Long would have a load of coal sent up there right away so that the furnace could be started. Mr. Long heard no more about it, and he supposed the situation had been resumed, but they were not. Wednesday there was no coal in the school. Thursday the situation was the same. Friday, the furnace was started and school was held yesterday, but that was the only day this week. The patrons of the school have been highly incensed at the negligence which caused such a serious interruption to the work of the school, and it has made them more determined than ever to force the resignation of Mr. Dozier, the director from that district, if possible.

They are very much dissatisfied with the work of Mr. Dozier, or rather with his neglect of work, and they have expressed their dissatisfaction, not in simple complaints, but in formal protest. The protest was signed by Pryor's Hall, on Florissant avenue, last Monday evening. The meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the situation, but the meeting was so poorly attended that the meeting was adjourned. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the situation, but the meeting was so poorly attended that the meeting was adjourned.

Another speaker called attention to the fact that whenever a delegation had gone before the board for the purpose of discussing the situation, they had been met with a refusal to receive them. The speaker said that the board had been met with a refusal to receive them. The speaker said that the board had been met with a refusal to receive them.

A motion was then made that the Secretary, Mr. John F. Miller, be instructed to prepare a communication to the board, asking for the resignation of Mr. Dozier, and requesting the board to ask Mr. Dozier to resign. The motion was carried unanimously and a communication to that effect will be forwarded to the board.

The bonds of the various contractors who were awarded the contracts for the additions and new buildings were approved yesterday by the Building Committee and the work of construction will begin at once.

The Building Committee had a meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. O'Connor, president and Messrs. McIntire, O'Connor, Koff, Cudmore and present. Mr. Dozier was absent. In addition to approving the contractors' bonds the committee ordered the architect to prepare plans for the basement of the Jefferson school played with brick.

There has been some talk of late about a new officer in the School Board to look after the school, but every one connected with the situation declared that there is no foundation for it. It is generally regarded as a movement on the part of the friends of the school to create a position to put him in, but there is no foundation for it.

The plaster fell. A part of the ceiling in the Criminal Court room had fallen. Several chunks of the plaster, some of them weighing forty and fifty pounds, had dropped upon the jury scribes in the rear row completely wrecking the furniture. The wood was started into kindling, and castings two inches in diameter were snapped off as though they had been pipe stems.

The accident happened during the session of court the jurors seated in these three chairs would undoubtedly have been killed and the judge would have been seriously injured. Judge Normile was this morning considerably exercised over the affair, and will insist that an immediate examination be made of the plaster in other parts of the room. Ladders from the steam pipes in the rooms on the third floor last spring are supposed to have weakened the ceiling and caused last night's precipitation.

Lizzie Johnston in Trouble Again. Lizzie Johnston is a colored woman with a police record. She has been in more saloons and streets than any woman in St. Louis, with the possible exception of her old-time enemy, the irrepressible Camille Beckman. She was again in the First District Police Court this morning on charges of disturbing the peace with a white man named Charles Atkinson. The two had a fight at a saloon on Sixth street between the avenue and Spruce on Thursday evening. Atkinson emerged from the battle with a lacerated arm. He told Officer Schillerstein and Curtis that the woman had hit him with a brick. This morning Judge Cady fined Atkinson $10 and assessed the woman $50 and costs.

THE THREE LADY PHARMACISTS.

But Little Professional Sympathy Extended to Their Brave Struggle.

The troubles and case persecution encountered by the three lady juniors of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy last night in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH, have excited an especially interesting comment in professional circles of the city, and bring once more to the front, in the strongest light possible, the topic of the welcome extended to women by the various professions whose ranks they endeavor to enter. While condemnation of the course pursued by the Junior Class of the College of Pharmacy is the unanimous profession of the three ladies who have belonged to it during the opening month of the fall term is general, it is a fact that nearly all physicians in disfavoring the case deplore the tendency of women to compete with men in professional circles, and look with anything but favor upon the idea of female competition. A well-known local physician in talking of the case this morning to a POST-DISPATCH reporter, was most pronounced in his views against women as physicians, surgeons or druggists, and evinced a strong bias against the three brave ladies now "running the gauntlet" at the college named. He stated his arguments upon the theory that women are unfitted by nature to enter the sphere in which they are now endeavoring to make a name for themselves. He stated that the three ladies are unfitted by nature to enter the sphere in which they are now endeavoring to make a name for themselves.

A Colored Man Drops Dead. Charles Brown, a colored man 88 years old, dropped dead in the stable at 3836 Washington avenue about 10:40 o'clock last night. Dr. Bond, Grand and Page avenues, had been called to the house and he found the man dead. The man had been ill for some time and he had been in the hospital for some time.
